Himalayan Gourmet Salt

Three hundred million years ago, a vast primordial ocean covered the area that would become the Himalayan mountain range. The salt of that unpolluted ocean was preserved as large crystal formations that now yield the purest salt on earth and the most beneficial salt available. Himalayan Salt is a full-flavored all-natural mineral salt. It is minimally processed and gets its characteristic rosy hue from a wide range of trace minerals, including calcium, magnesium and potassium. NSLT We offer the widest range of grain sizes & packaging options available in this unique, mineral-rich salt. Whether in wholesale bulk or retail-packaged products, our bestselling salt promises the best flavor & quality. Our Himalayan Salt undergoes our exclusive processing techniques to guarantee its status as the best quality on the market. With our precise sizing and proprietary quality processes, our Himalayan Salt products are incomparable in purity & value. Our processes clean and sort raw grains without touching the natural crystals, which leaves behind only the most pristine, all-natural salt. Never chemically processed, heated or refined, NSLT Himalayan Salt is simply the highest quality and most delicious unadulterated Himalayan Salt possible.

Salt Lamps

Love them for their natural beauty and Simplicity: Himalayan Salt Lamps are made of natural salt crystals, from deep within the Himalayan Mountains, home to the worlds purest and most colorful salt. Colors can range from white to orange-ish to deep salmon pink. They are hand carved to preserve their natural beauty. When illuminated, the light casts a colorful splash of luminescence through the salt and makes an inspiring accent anywhere in your home or office. Himalayan Salt Lamps have many benefits related to health. They are used to cure different types of allergies, respiratory problems like asthma, depression and facilitate better sleep. When turned on these lamps release negative ions (the healthy ones found in abundance in places like oceans, waterfalls, even your shower) into the air. This air ionization process cleanses the air by eliminating the harmful effects of positive ions and electromagnetic contamination present in our surroundings due to the use of electric equipment & gadgets. NSLT brings the finest quality Himalayan Salt Lamps with charismatic warm colors and distinguished grade crystals that are sure to fascinate everyone. We have an extensive range of salt lamps that comes in various shapes & sizes to help you take a more natural approach to your lifestyle.

Tea Light Salt Holders

The Himalayan Salt Crystals, when lighted up by fire, do not only create a mesmerizing ambience but also purify the surrounding air. It is one of the most attractive products manufactured from rock salt. Himalayan Salts Crystal Tea Light Holders when lit release negative ions that activate the air that breathes and soothes the nerves. They tend to lighten the mood of most people with their soft glow. Improving mood allows people to think positively, recover quickly and feel better in stressful environments and situations. Our Himalayan Salt Tea Light Holders are carefully crafted by hand to retain their unique, beautiful and natural shapes. They make an attractive addition to any room and provide a soothing & stress reliving environment for all to relish. Our tea light holders colors, weights and shapes vary, since all salt holders are one of a kind. With time, they do not reduce in size, color or shape, and do not lose weight, or their ionizing effect!

Bath Salt

The Himalayan Salt is also a preferred choice when it comes to the selection of bath products. Preserved by the volcanic ash, the bath salt found in the Himalayan Range has a rich history that goes back to the time of ancient sea beds. When used as bath salt, it makes your skin cleaner and smoother making you look young and beautiful. It heals foot fungus, wounds, skin irritations, insect bites & blisters and also serves as a therapy to joint diseases such as rheumatism. Sourced from the most mineral-rich salt mines in the Himalayas, NSLT Himalayan Salt is the highest quality Himalayan bath salt on the market. In both unscented and scented varieties, our wholesale bath salts are ideal for retail shelves, bath & body products, health & beauty spas, and more.

Salt Plates & Bowls

Himalayan Salt Slabs are nature's cooktop and serving platter in one, offering many creative culinary uses while delivering the benefits and flavor of all-natural, pure mineral salt. Our Himalayan Salt Plates are the best available anywhere, hand-picked from the purest seams of 250 million year old salt deposits deep under the rugged Himalayan landscape. Suitable for freezing to -320°F (-196°C) and heating to 900°F (482°C); our Himalayan Salt Blocks are selected for both natural beauty and structural integrity. Heat your Himalayan pink salt slab, plate, or brick to high temperatures and sear thinly sliced meats, fish, vegetables, seafood, eggs and other quick-cooking foods. Or, chill it for use in serving sushi, appetizers, cold meats and cheeses, fresh fruit and vegetables, and even cold desserts.

Serving Salt
Plates & Bowls

Imagine serving your food on a plate of pure, natural salt 250 million years old. The primary reason behind the use of Himalayan Salt in the culinary items is it being free from any impurities. What is originally extracted in the shape of gigantic boulders is further carved and sculpted into various culinary items like plates and bowls. Today Himalayan Saltware is being used in many homes and restaurants around the world to serve seafood, steaks, cheese, salads and fruits. Wet foods when served have a saltier flavor, while their more intense and drier counterparts offer a beautiful and creative look when served in the Himalayan Saltware. NSLT offers the highest quality Himalayan Salt Serving Plates and Bowls. These unique and eye-catching items are always in demand. Whether for your store, restaurant or building a display, our Himalayan Salt Plates and Bowls are available in a range of sizes and options in wholesale case quantities.

Animal Salt Licks & Chunks

Salt is an important element of animal food as salt deficiency in animals can prove to be quite troublesome causing various diseases. A salt lick or Chunk is a deposit of mineral salts used by animals to supplement their nutrition, ensuring that they get enough minerals in their diets. A wide assortment of animals such as moose, elephants, cattle, woodchucks, domestic sheep, fox squirrels, mountain goats and porcupines use salt licks to get essential nutrients like calcium, magnesium, sodium, and zinc. Himalayan Animal Salt Licks and Chunks are made entirely from pink Himalayan Crystal Salt and come in various sizes & forms.
